Taylor Speaks at Arlington Cemetery In Commemoration of Confederate Dead.

By VAN CLEVELAND.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Despite the almost insufferable heat yesterday many journeyed to Arlington cemetery to do honor to the Confederate dead and to hear an eloquent address by Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee. It is a national cemetery, but a small section has been allotted to the use of distinguished participants in the lost cause. It is a peculiar fact that the first man buried in this cemetery was a confederate, a prisoner who died at the government hospital.

Arlington cemetery was formerly the old Robert E. Lee home, and is one of the most beautiful places in the vicinity of the capitol. The cemetery is a part of an original tract of 6,000 acres granted by Gov. William Berkeley of Virginia in October, 1669, to Robert Howson, who had been instrumental in bringing a number of settlers into the colony. Within a year Howson conveyed the lands to John Alexander for a consideration of six hogsheads of tobacco. Upon the death of Alexander the property came into the possession of his son Gerald, who, in December 1778, conveyed 1,100 acres to John Parke Custis for 1,100 pounds Virginia currency.

Custis was the son of Martha Washington by her first husband, and was an aide-de-camp to General Washington during the revolution. He died in 1781 of camp fever contracted at Yorktown, and his two youngest children were adopted by General Washington. The place then descended to Mary Ann Randolph, who married Robert E. Lee, a lieutenant colonel in the army, and it became the home of the man who afterward became the great general of the confederacy, and remained his home until he resigned his place in the army to join the army of the secession.

The old residence that rests upon a high ridge overlooking the Potomac river and the city of Washington furnishes a magnificent view for many miles. It was in those days a mansion. It was begun in 1804, but was not completed until after the war of 1812. It is said to have been modeled after the temple of Paestum, near Naples. In the front veranda there are six huge columns that two men cannot span with outstretched arms. No more beautiful location could have been selected for a home in all this country.

In 1864 a department order was issued to take and appropriate 200 acres of this farm for cemetery purposes, and a later order increased the amount to 469 acres, which is the present area devoted to cemetery purposes. After the war the formality of selling it for $92.07 taxes was the next procedure of the government, and it was bid in for $26,800. After the death of Mrs. Lee, however, her heirs, alleging that the government had no right to confiscate her property, brought suit and secured a judgment against the government. The supreme court sustained the lower court and the heirs were paid $150,000 for the property.

Arlington now contains the remains of 21,165 soldiers, of which over four thousand are unknown. Beneath one huge stone rests the bones of 2,111 unknown men gathered from the fields of Bull Run and along the route to the Rappahannock. The figures showing the number of the unknown and those showing the number of known, together with the words appear in an artistic arrangement of plants and flowers in a large mound near this monument. The more than twenty thousand little gray stones of uniform size that dot the many acres in straight rows like a huge tobacco field present a solemn and forceful illustration of the terrible consequences of war.

On my way to church Sunday morning I happened to step from the street car in front of All Souls Unitarian church. Noticing several big policemen standing around, the thought was immediately suggested that the president was expected, and, with true manly curiosity, I tarried a few minutes to see his august avoirdupois appear and disappear behind the doors of the great church. Presently the quick eye of a secret service man was fixed like a pointer pup, his neck stretched up about two inches, and he walked hastily to a point directly in front of a side entrance, where he was joined by other officers just as a big white auto drove up. Mr. Taft promptly stepped out, clad in some light material, with a straw hat turned up in front like a school boy, and looking as cool and happy as a fly in a refrigerator. He made a dash for the entrance without looking to the right or the left, and was hid from view in half the time it takes to tell the story. Those of us who expected him to stop and shake hands and enquire about Cal Pierce and Scribner Beech and all the boys back in Nodaway county were disappointed.

At those churches which I have attended here I have found instructive and comforting sermons, good singing, plenty of fans and a cordial welcome for the stranger. There is no apparent fear that the stranger will carry off the pulpit or make way with the contribution plate such as is manifest in some of the great gospel ice boxes of the cities.

This city is just now somewhat agitated over the fact that a colored woman has been sentenced to be hanged here July 31. If the sentence is carried out it will be the second time a woman has been hung here, but the first time under sentence from a court of justice. The other case was a military hanging many years ago.

This woman killed her husband and was found guilty of murder and the death sentence was pronounced, but one of the newspapers has taken the matter up and rallied to its support many who believe it would be an unpardonable disgrace to permit a woman even though she be guilty of a terrible crime, to be hanged at the nation's capital. As public sentiment is not strong for capital punishment, it is very probable that they will succeed in getting the president to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

The most conspicuous pleader, however, for a commutation of her sentence is the Hon. Caleb Powers, member of congress from Kentucky. His activity suggests the irony of fate, but there are few men in a position to feel in the matter just as Mr. Powers does. Three times he was convicted and sentenced for complicity in the Governor Goebel murder, and for one year at least sat in the shadow of the gallows himself. He has been to see the president, is making speeches at mass meetings and today introduced a bill in the house to abolish capital punishment for women in the District of Columbia.

The public discussion of the question has taken many angles, some relevant and some irrelevant. Among the many letters written to the daily papers, one appeared yesterday from a lady, in which she takes a rap at the woman suffragettes. Many women have interested themselves in the matter, and this lady declares that "woman is constitutionally inconsistent," and insists that when women assume "those splendid manly prerogatives that belligerent woman has so long been striving to attain" that they should take the bad with the good, the unpleasant with the pleasant, and concludes with the following: "If hanging is good for men, women should have it by all means. I am not yet a suffragette, but when I become one I shall insist upon enjoying all of the 'rights' which the other sex have struggled with and battled against all these ages past. I shall smoke, chew and drink and swear and vote and be hanged." Evidently she doesn't expect to embrace the doctrine any ways soon.

Mrs. Solomon Clark returned to her home in Pickering Thursday from a two days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Williams.

Misses Frances, Myrtle and Alberta Hahn went to Conception Thursday to visit their aunt, Mrs. J. A. Mapes, until Saturday.

GOES INTO EFFECT IN MISSOURI NEXT MONDAY.

Dry Goods Stores and Laundry Hard Hit by Law Concerning Women.

The new women's nine-hour labor law goes into effect in Missouri next Monday, June 19. It was passed during the recent session of the legislature, and was signed by Governor Hadley.

The new law is that "no female shall be employed in any manufacturing or mechanical and mercantile establishment, laundry or work shop in this state more than nine hours during any one day, nor more than fifty-four hours during any one week."

In Maryville the law affects the Maryville Steam Laundry, the Alderman Dry Goods company, D. R. Eversole & Son and F. M. Petty. For instance, on Saturday in the dry goods stores of this city the ladies employed work from 8 o'clock in the morning until about 9:20 o'clock in the evening, or more than nine hours. But these stores will be unable to do that any more, according to the provisions of this law.

Conrad Yehle, vice president of the Alderman Dry Goods company, in speaking of the new law, said:

"I don't know what we will do on Saturday. Every other day in the week the women employees are working only nine hours, but on Saturday they worked over this on account of the Saturday night's trade. We need all our clerks throughout the day on Saturday in every department, which does away with some of the clerks starting to work later in the morning. What we will do I don't know."

The other dry goods stores over the city have taken no action in regard to the new law, and what they will do they do not know at this time. The Maryville Steam Laundry will be affected by the new law, but not very much, according to W. J. Staples.

A new child labor law is to take effect on the same date. Under its provisions no child less than 14 years old, excepting those engaged in agriculture or domestic service, will be permitted to be employed anywhere in the state. No boy less than 16 years and no girl less than 16 will be allowed to offer for sale newspapers or merchandise of any kind. No child less than 16 may be employed without an employment certificate on file with the employer. Children may not be employed more than eight hours in one day, nor more than forty-eight hours in any one week, and they must not be employed before 7 a. m. nor after 7 p. m.

Their machine was in fine condition and they have made the journey so far without a punctured tire or any other mishap. They have averaged 100 miles per day and are on their way to Wallown Lake, Mich., to visit Mrs. Eaton's mother, Mrs. S. E. Haws.

Inquiry was made of Mr. and Mrs. Easton as to Mr. and Mrs. John H. English of Trinidad, formerly well known residents of this city. JUNE TERM OF COURT CONVENES MONDAY

The June term of the Nodaway county circuit court will convene next Monday morning with Judge W. C. Ellison on the bench. The docket for this term is an unusually large one, and many important cases are to be tried.

While for some years past, it has been customary for jury cases to be continued until the November term of court on account of the busy season with the farmers, it will not be that way this year. Many of the jury cases will be tried.

The docket contains 15 parole cases; 175 trial cases, 68 being back tax cases; 43 criminal cases; 41 equity cases; and 6 divorce suits.

Two of the most important cases will be the will contest case of Anna Rosella Andrews, et al., vs. Mary Ann Linebaugh, and also the will contest case of Owen O'Donnell, et al., vs. Mary O'Donnell, et al.

This will be her only Sunday at home and the only opportunity her many friends and admirers will have of hearing her for some time. She has a glorious voice and it will be a delightful thing to hear her again.

Mr. Eversole will give several pipe organ numbers. The concert will be worthy the day and hour, and of a character attractive to lovers of music and song.

FOR A "WHITE WAY"

CITY COUNCIL TO CONSIDER THE NEW SYSTEM OF LIGHTING.

PROBABLE COST $2500

For Five Blocks for Eight Lamp Posts to a Block—Would Be a Good Thing.

Maryville will have a "White Way" if favorable action is taken on the proposition by the city council at a meeting to be held Friday night. It is proposed to use the ornamental lamp post that has been installed in front of the Empire theater by Manager Hellmers of the Electric Light company, which has five lamps. The proposed "White Way" will extend for five blocks, or from Curfman Bros. lumber yard to the G. B. Holmes & Co. grocery store, on Main street. Other sections of the city will probably have them later on.

The probable cost will be $2,500 for the five blocks, or $500 a block. They intend to use eight posts to the block, or four on each side. The five lamps are to be turned on every night up to midnight, and then for the balance of the night the top lamp will be the only one lighted.

While no definite plans have been made as yet for the "White Way," Mayor Robey, in discussing the matter Thursday, said that the city could well afford to install these lights, and if the council does not take favorable action on the lights it is thought that some of the property owners and business men of the city will install them anyway. Mayor Robey further said:

"I am strongly in favor of the proposed 'White Way,' and the experiment of the new light and want to see Maryville have them. One feature of the lights will be that there will be no overhead wires, and many of the electric light posts will be done away with, which will improve the streets wonderfully."

The new light is meeting with the approval of the citizens here and many are interested in the proposed "White Way." Manager Hellmers of the company is to install another one in front of the Empire.

Twenty-two cities in Iowa are using these lights and are well pleased with them, according to letters received from them.

REV. PLASS PLEADS GUILTY

His Associates Do the Same and All Will Be Fined.

Boston, June 15.—A plea of guilty was offered in the midst of his testimony in the United States district court by Rev. Norman Plass, former president of the Redeemable Investment company, who is on trial for using the mails in furtherance of a fraudulent scheme. Charles H. Brooks, the president, and John I. Traphagen, the treasurer, pleaded guilty to "technical" fraud. All three will be found instead of imprisoned, it is understood.

The sudden termination of the case was through agreement. District Attorney French having stated that he would not press for a jail sentence inasmuch as the evidence showed a less serious offense than was at first supposed. Mr. French also said he would not press seven counts of the twelve in the indictment, the defendants having pleaded guilty on five counts.

IOWA GRAND ARMY ELECTS

35c Imported Dimities Reduced to 25c a Yard

These imported dimities differ in "looks" and "feel" from the domestic product because the threads used are smoother, thus giving a more uniform, softer surface.

There are in all about 40 widely different patterns to select from—every one an artistic combination of unusual beauty. Nearly every color is represented. For dainty summer dresses nothing is so appropriate or serviceable and the wide range of colorings gives every opportunity for fashioning becoming models.

The regular price is 35c a yard but starting tomorrow these imported dimities will be marked to sell for, the yard,

Some are in plain colors while others have a dainty silk stripe woven into the cloth. The plain colors usually sell for 60c a yard and the silk stripes for 75c a yard but they are reduced here, beginning tomorrow, to the one price of, the yard,

DID YOU SEE THE
"HAREM SKIRT"

A silence came over the audience. It was the silence which comes with the expectation of the unknown. Instinct seemed to tell the people that something was about to happen. The villain's affinity, the wife of the millionaire, had just appeared in the doorway. Not knowing particularly why they did it, everybody turned their eyes on her. And then, she took a stride which landed her half way down the stage. The mystery was revealed. Two dainty ankles in pink stockings. Two soft silky looking thighs, all room and baggy, gathered in tight about three inches above the ankles. A mouseproof contraption. A drop curtain effect in the front and back concealed a large portion of the contrivance underneath as long as the lady was standing still. But when the strides began, watch out.

Mark Twain would probably have held his hands over his eyes and peeked through his fingers as he did at the Parisian dancers, but a Maryville audience, never. We all looked and looked hard, not caring if it was naughty. We need no longer to bow our heads in shame in the presence of Chicagoans, New Yorkers, or even Parisians, for we have received the last touch of civilization. We are cosmopolitan, metropolitan. We have seen the harem skirt.

FUZZY'S "POLL TAX" IS PAID NOW

Even a dog may have friends, if he shows himself friendly.

"Fuzzy," who is nobody's dog around town, but by no means a friendless dog, has seemed in a quandary for several days, and his restless and rather limp manner was a puzzle to his friends. Tuesday he went to the office of one of his friends, Paul Sisson, where he was in the habit of calling occasionally, and went into the vault and slept there a long time. It was the first time he had gone into the vault, and after he awakened, lingered in his new sleeping place and peeped out cautiously. Seeing only friends he came on out, slipped down stairs and suddenly darted into an alley.

Just then somebody noticed O. P. Wade, who is collecting the dog tax this year, drive by. Then it was that a friend of "Fuzzy" knew what the matter was. He knew his time was short if his tax wasn't paid, and as he had no owner he could not expect any one to do so much for him, and he felt the hour of his departure was near at hand, for he had heard of the hard-hearted dog tax collector.

But Wednesday morning a collar and tag was put around his neck by Charles Wadley, another of his friends, and "Fuzzy" is now happily wagging his tail. His tax receipt bears the names of Paul Sisson, Miss Virginia Rose, J. J. Godby, W. C. Smith, G. A. Pickens, F. P. Robinson, Roy Walton and Charles Wadley.

"Fuzzy" first appeared in Maryville a year ago at Normal park, where the Kentucky Colonels were in camp, and he was treated with such splendid hospitality that he remained and was a great favorite with all who afterward went there to camp, especially the Parcher and Condon families.

He is a very modest dog and shows excellent breeding, because he never stays so long with any of his friends as to wear his welcome out, and they are always glad to see him.

He has extended his acquaintance somewhat, and his friends now include the families in West Terrace place, a select few uptown, and his old friends of Camp Comfort.

Fuzzy is not distinguished looking at all. His body is long, his legs are short, his face and eyes are good and he has a very expressive tail, and a fuzzy coat.

None of his friends are able to tell just why they like "Fuzzy." When you ask them they just smile and say, "Oh, I don't know. 'Fuzzy's' so nice and friendly."

It made us think of the last verse of "Fritz and I."

"Vot was it, den, about dot tog,"
You ask, "dot's not vor sale?"
I tells you what it ish, mine friend:
"Tish der vag of dot tog's dail!"

Miss Lora Livasy has resigned her position with the Bell Telephone company and will go to Creston in a few days to accept a position. She has been employed in the Bell office here for two years.

Mrs. Joseph Holloway and little daughter, Allene and Bopeep, living southeast of Maryville, were Maryville business visitors Thursday.

County Superintendent W. M. Oakerson went to Skidmore Thursday for a visit with his parents.

National Stock Yards, Ill., June 14, 1911.—Cattle receipts today 6,000. Market steady with yesterday. Supplies liberal during the past week, and grass cattle, both steers and butcher stuff, show a decline of 10 to 15c, while good fed stuff of all kinds has ruled steady to strong, an advance of 10 to 15c having been paid for prime weight steers which are scarce and wanted. Hog receipts 14,500. Market opened steady; closed 5 to 10c lower. HEIKE IN THE WITNESS BOX

Former Secretary Tells Why
Sugar Trust Was Organized.

TO CUT COST OF PRODUCTION

House Investigating Committee Fails to Discover Secret of Controlling Genius of the American Sugar Refining Company.

Washington, June 15.—An attempt to discover the secret of the power of the late Henry O. Havemeyer, who for years was the controlling genius of the American Sugar Refining company, failed again when the house sugar trust investigating committee cross-examined Charles R. Heike, supposed confidant of the sugar king and secretary of the company until his indictment connecting him with the recent sugar customs frauds. Edwin F. Atkins, acting head of the corporation, had testified that Mr. Havemeyer had ruled the concern with holdings of $200,000 of a total of $90,000,000.

Mr. Heike protested that he knew nothing of the operations of Mr. Havemeyer. Explaining that little discussion of business ever took place at the meetings of the board of directors of the corporation, Mr. Heike pleaded his inability to tell the committee much about the big transactions of the company during the course of time he was with the company.

President Havemeyer ran the business, the witness said. He denied that he had such confidential relations with Mr. Havemeyer as to be able to testify now about the business of former days. Looking at it from the past, he said, he judged the merger was to reduce the cost of production.

MRS. MANCHESTER WINS

Re-Elected Head of Woodmen Circle
by Supreme Council at Rochester.

Rochester, N. Y., June 15.—At the supreme council of the Woodmen Circle Mrs. Emma Manchester was re-elected supreme guardian, receiving every vote with one exception, thus, it is claimed, exonerating her from the charges filed by Elizabeth Sears of Omaha.

Mrs. Sears, who up to the last moment had been considered an active candidate, refused to permit her name to go before the council.

Miss Alexander of Texas has been elected supreme clerk.

Nurserymen in Convention.

St. Louis, June 15.—The thirty-sixth annual convention of the American Association of Nurserymen began here and will continue for three days. The nurserymen expect to adopt resolutions protesting against the passage by congress of the Howard bill, which proposes to quarantine all seedlings and nurserymen's imports from France and countries where the brown-legged moth is said to have originated.

Hospital Destroyed by Fire.

Nevada, Mo., June 15.—The newly constructed industrial building of the state hospital for the insane, No. 3, was destroyed by fire. Thirteen employees of the institution were sleeping in the building. One was badly burned. The others escaped uninjured. The loss is estimated at about $20,000. The cause of the fire is unknown.

WOMAN ADMITS HIDING MONEY

Mrs. Ford Says She Put it in Strong Box for Cooke.

SAYS HE JUST HELPED HIMSELF

Twenty-Two Thousand Dollars of Big Four Money Turned Over to Her.
Says She Got $1,500, but Was Forced to Return $1,000.

Cincinnati, June 15.—Charles L. Warriner, defaulter to the extent of $643,000, stepped from the court scene in the trial of Edgar S. Cooke here back to his cell, and there entered Jeannette Stewart Ford, once a veritable Lu Barry, now a pathetic, pained invalid.

With quivering voice, shaking hand holding a handkerchief unsteadily to her eyes, she admitted having hidden $22,000 in money for Cooke, and then declared that he told her that it had been taken from the Big Four railway. She said that she had received $1,200 or $1,500 of this amount for herself and then, when shown a check signed by her and indorsed by Cooke for $1,000, said that the former bookkeeper of the railroad had forced her to return that amount to him.

In all essential details her testimony fitted into and supplemented that of Warriner. Warriner had related that when he discovered that Cooke was short the defendant had promised to return some of the money and had subsequently visited Warriner's home and given him $2,000.

Mrs. Ford said that she had accompanied Cooke to the Warriner residence one night, but had remained outside until the latter had finished his call; that Cooke then said: "It's all right, we'll both go to New York," and that there they opened the cache she had established in a Wall street vault, and added Cooke in counting bills to the total of $22,000.

"Just Helped Himself."
According to the woman, Cooke's explanation of his methods in acquiring this money was that "he just helped himself."

Warriner resisted successfully attempts to lead him into an exposure of men higher up. He denied there were any such men; that he had pleaded guilty and accepted a prison sentence at the behest of Big Four officials, or that he had ever, as an officer of the road, paid out money for illegal rebates.

Warriner was then dismissed, and, in the custody of a deputy, led back to the county jail.

NINE MEN INDICTED

Alleged Labor Sluggers Characterized by Chicago Police as "Gunmen."

Chicago, June 15.—Fourteen indictments against nine men whom the police characterize as labor "sluggers" and "gunmen," among them being Maurice Enright, business agent of the plumbers' union, who confessed to shooting and killing William Gentleman, a union labor agent, were returned by the grand jury. With Enright, the men indicted are John McCabe, Walter Stevens, Peter Gentleman, Harry Higgins, William Connors, Edward Storegaard, Joseph Kane and Arthur O'Connors.

Three separate murders, which have resulted during the factional fight between separate organizations of the plumbers and steamfitters, are charged in the indictments.

Higgins, Enright and Stevens were indicted for assault to murder John Ramler, who recently was shot while at work. Six of the true bills charged Connors, Kane, Stevens, Gentleman, Storegaard and O'Connors with assault and intent to murder Morgan Bell, who was beaten while at work. The other indictments charged Stevens, McCabe, Kane, O'Connors and Gentleman with assault to murder Richard O'Donnell.

Washington, June 15.—The International Paper company has written Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee, refusing to furnish information Senator Penrose had asked respecting the purchase price of the properties merged into the International company and whether paid for in cash, bonds or otherwise.

The company, through its representative, Chester W. Lyman, says: "There are business reasons entirely aside from the purposes of your investigation which would make us unwilling to publish broadcast some of the facts asked for."

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that Nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair, and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists.

Taylor Speaks at Arlington Cemetery In Commemoration of Confederate Dead.

By VAN CLEVE.

Washington, D. C., June 12.—Despite the almost insufferable heat yesterday many journeyed to Arlington cemetery to do honor to the Confederate dead and to hear an eloquent address by Senator Bob Taylor of Tennessee. It is a national cemetery, but a small section has been allotted to the use of distinguished participants in the lost cause. It is a peculiar fact that the first man buried in this cemetery was a confederate, a prisoner who died at the government hospital.

Arlington cemetery was formerly the old Robert E. Lee home, and is one of the most beautiful places in the vicinity of the capital. The cemetery is a part of an original tract of 6,000 acres granted by Gov. William Berkeley of Virginia in October, 1669, to Robert Howson, who had been instrumental in bringing a number of settlers into the colony. Within a year Howson conveyed the lands to John Alexander for a consideration of six hogsheads of tobacco. Upon the death of Alexander the property came into the possession of his son Gerald, who, in December 1778, conveyed 1,100 acres to John Parke Custis for 1,100 pounds Virginia currency.

Custis was the son of Martha Washington by her first husband, and was an aide-de-camp to General Washington during the revolution. He died in 1781 of camp fever contracted at Yorktown, and his two youngest children were adopted by General Washington. The place then descended to Mary Ann Randolph, who married Robert E. Lee, a lieutenant colonel in the army, and it became the home of the man who afterward became the great general of the confederacy, and remained his home until he resigned his place in the army to join the army of the secession.

The old residence that rests upon a high ridge overlooking the Potomac river and the city of Washington furnishes a magnificent view for many miles. It was in those days a mansion. It was begun in 1804, but was not completed until after the war of 1812. It is said to have been modeled after the temple of Paestum, near Naples. In the front veranda there are six huge columns that two men cannot span with outstretched arms. No more beautiful location could have been selected for a home in all this country.

In 1864 a department order was issued to take and appropriate 200 acres of this farm for cemetery purposes, and a later order increased the amount to 469 acres, which is the present area devoted to cemetery purposes. After the war the formality of selling it for $92.07 taxes was the next procedure of the government, and it was bid in for $26,800. After the death of Mrs. Lee, however, her heirs, alleging that the government had no right to confiscate her property, brought suit and secured a judgment against the government. The supreme court sustained the lower court and the heirs were paid $150,000 for the property.

Arlington now contains the remains of 21,165 soldiers, of which over four thousand are unknown. Beneath one huge stone rests the bones of 2,111 unknown men gathered from the fields of Bull Run and along the route to the Rappahannock. The figures showing the number of the unknown and those showing the number of known, together with the words appear in an artistic arrangement of plants and flowers in a large mound near this monument. The more than twenty thousand little gray stones of uniform size that dot the many acres in straight rows like a huge tobacco field present a solemn and forceful illustration of the terrible consequences of war.

On my way to church Sunday morning I happened to step from the street car in front of All Souls Unitarian church. Noticing several big policemen standing around, the thought was immediately suggested that the president was expected, and, with true manly curiosity, I tarried a few minutes to see his august avoirdupois appear and disappear behind the doors of the great church. Presently the quick eye of a secret service man was fixed like a pointer pup, his neck stretched up about two inches, and he walked hastily to a point directly in front of a side entrance, where he was joined by other officers just as a big white auto drove up. Mr. Taft promptly stepped out, clad in some light material, with a straw hat turned up in front like a school boy, and looking as cool and happy as a fly in a refrigerator. He made a dash for the entrance without looking to the right or the left, and was hid from view in half the time it takes to tell the story. Those of us who expected him to stop and shake hands and enquire about Cal Pierce and Scribner Beech and all the boys back in Nodaway county were disappointed.

At those churches which I have attended here I have found instructive and comforting sermons, good singing, plenty of fans and a cordial welcome for the stranger. There is no apparent fear that the stranger will carry off the pulpit or make way with the contribution plate such as is manifest in some of the great gospel ice boxes of the cities.

This city is just now somewhat agitated over the fact that a colored woman has been sentenced to be hanged here July 31. If the sentence is carried out it will be the second time a woman has been hung here, but the first time under sentence from a court of justice. The other case was a military hanging many years ago.

This woman killed her husband and was found guilty of murder and the death sentence was pronounced, but one of the newspapers has taken the matter up and rallied to its support many who believe it would be an unpardonable disgrace to permit a woman, even though she be guilty of a terrible crime, to be hanged at the nation's capital. As public sentiment is not strong for capital punishment, it is very probable that they will succeed in getting the president to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

The most conspicuous pleader, however, for a commutation of her sentence is the Hon. Caleb Powers, member of congress from Kentucky. His activity suggests the irony of fate, but there are few men in a position to feel in the matter just as Mr. Powers does. Three times he was convicted and sentenced for complicity in the Governor Geobel murder, and for one year at least sat in the shadow of the gallows himself. He has been to see the president, is making speeches at mass meetings and today introduced a bill in the house to abolish capital punishment for women in the District of Columbia.

The public discussion of the question has taken many angles, some relevant and some irrelevant. Among the many letters written to the daily papers, one appeared yesterday from a lady, in which she takes a rap at the woman suffragettes. Many women have interested themselves in the matter, and this lady declares that "woman is constitutionally inconsistent," and insists that when women assume "those splendid manly prerogatives that belligerent woman has so long been striving to attain" that they should take the bad with the good, and unpleasant with the pleasant, and concludes with the following: "If hanging is good for men, women should have it by all means. I am not yet a suffragette, but when I become one I shall insist upon enjoying all of the 'rights' which the other sex have struggled with and battled against all these ages past. I shall smoke, chew and drink and swear and vote and be hanged." Evidently she doesn't expect to embrace the doctrine any ways soon.

Mrs. Solomon Clark returned to her home in Pickering Thursday from a two days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. E. J. Williams.

Misses Frances, Myrtle and Alberta Hahn went to Conception Thursday to visit their aunt, Mrs. J. A. Mapes, until Saturday.

NEW 9-HOUR LAW

GOES INTO EFFECT IN MISSOURI NEXT MONDAY.

AFFECTS SEVERAL PLACES

Dry Goods Stores and Laundry Hard Hit by Law Concerning Women.

The new women's nine-hour labor law goes into effect in Missouri next Monday, June 19. It was passed during the recent session of the legislature, and was signed by Governor Hadley.

The new law is that "no female shall be employed in any manufacturing or mechanical and mercantile establishment, laundry or work shop in this state more than nine hours during any one day, nor more than fifty-four hours during any one week."

In Maryville the law affects the Maryville Steam Laundry, the Alderman Dry Goods company, D. R. Eversole & Son and F. M. Petty. For instance, on Saturday in the dry goods stores of this city the ladies employed work from 8 o'clock in the morning until about 3:30 o'clock in the evening, or more than nine hours. But these stores will be unable to do that any more, according to the provisions of this law.

Conrad Yehle, vice president of the Alderman Dry Goods company, in speaking of the new law, said:

"I don't know what we will do on Saturday. Every other day in the week the women employees are working only nine hours, but on Saturday they worked over this on account of the Saturday night's trade. We need all our clerks throughout the day on Saturday in every department, which does away with some of the clerks starting to work later in the morning. What we will do I don't know."

The other dry goods stores over the city have taken no action in regard to the new law, and what they will do they do not know at this time. The Maryville Steam laundry will be affected by the new law, but not very much, according to W. J. Staples.

A new child labor law is to take effect on the same date. Under its provisions no child less than 14 years old, excepting those engaged in agriculture or domestic service, will be permitted to be employed anywhere in the state. No boy less than 16 years and no girl less than 16 will be allowed to offer for sale newspapers or merchandise of any kind. No child less than 16 may be employed without an employment certificate on file with the employer. Children may not be employed more than eight hours in one day, nor more than forty-eight hours in any one week, and they must not be employed before 7 a. m. nor after 7 p. m.

AUTO PARTY HERE FROM TRINIDAD

An automobile party from Trinidad, Col., arrived in Maryville at 11:15 o'clock Thursday morning. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Easton and their children, Virginia, Merrill and Paul, and Mrs. Easton's brother, J. C. Haws. Their machine was in fine condition and they have made the journey so far without a punctured tire or any other mishap. They have averaged 100 miles per day and are on their way to Wallown Lake, Mich., to visit Mrs. Eaton's mother, Mrs. S. E. Haws.

Inquiry was made of Mr. and Mrs. Easton as to Mr. and Mrs. John H. English of Trinidad, formerly well known residents of this city. They say Mr. English has a fine position as business manager of the Chronicle-News of that city. Mrs. Easton and Mrs. English are members of the same social club of Trinidad.

MR. FULLERTON'S FUNERAL FRIDAY

C. G. McMillan and Mrs. McMillan came to Maryville Wednesday in Mr. McMillan's new car.

JUNE TERM OF COURT CONVENES MONDAY

The June term of the Nodaway county circuit court will convene next Monday morning with Judge W. C. Ellison on the bench. The docket for this term is an unusually large one, and many important cases are to be tried.

While for some years past, it has been customary for jury cases to be continued until the November term of court on account of the busy season with the farmers, it will not be that way this year. Many of the jury cases will be tried.

The docket contains 15 parole cases; 175 trial cases, 68 being back tax cases; 43 criminal cases; 41 equity cases; and 6 divorce suits.

Two of the most important cases will be the will contest case of Anna Rosella Andrews, et al. vs. Mary Ann Linchbaugh, and also the will contest case of Owen O'Donnell, et al. vs. Mary O'Donnell, et al.

COMETS TO PLAY SUNDAY WITH NEB. CITY

The Comets will play Nebraska City on Sunday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock at the ball park instead of the game scheduled for Saturday. The game will count as a league game. Nebraska City team came in Wednesday night and will play this afternoon, Friday afternoon and Sunday afternoon.

ROAD PEOPLE FORMED AN ORGANIZATION

At the meeting held Wednesday in this city of the people interested in the state road east of Maryville, eight miles to the road where it connects the Ridge road, an organization was perfected for the purpose of improving the road and of cutting down some of the hills. U. S. Wright was elected president of the association and George B. Baker, secretary and treasurer. The committee composed of Mr. Wright, Mr. Baker, Joseph Jackson, Jr., and Thad Wilderman were appointed to have charge of the work.

MISS MORRISON WILL SING SUNDAY NIGHT

Miss Mildred Morrison and Mr. Ralph Eversole will give a sacred concert at the First Presbyterian church Sunday night, assisted by the choir of that church.

Miss Morrison, who is engaged in concert work, will be in Maryville a few days for a visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Morrison. This will be her only Sunday at home and the only opportunity her many friends and admirers will have of hearing her for some time. She has a glorious voice and it will be a delightful thing to hear her again.

Mr. Eversole will give several pipe organ numbers. The concert will be worthy the day and hour, and of a character attractive to lovers of music and song.

Was Guest of Nurse.

Little Miss Helen Curfman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Curfman, returned Tuesday night from a week's visit with Miss Rose Hales. Miss Hales, who is a trained nurse, cared for Miss Helen through a critical illness of pneumonia in April, and then cared for Mrs. Curfman through her illness, caused by Miss Helen's sickness, from which she is just recovering.

FOR A "WHITE WAY"

CITY COUNCIL TO CONSIDER THE NEW SYSTEM OF LIGHTING.

PROBABLE COST $2500

For Five Blocks for Eight Lamp Posts to a Block—Would Be a Good Thing.

Maryville will have a "White Way" if favorable action is taken on the proposition by the city council at a meeting to be held Friday night. It is proposed to use the ornamental lamp post that has been installed in front of the Empire theater by Manager Hellmers of the Electric Light company, which has five lamps. The proposed "White Way" will extend far five blocks, or from Curfman Bros. lumber yard to the G. B. Holmes & Co. grocery store, on Main street. Other sections of the city will probably have them later on.

The probable cost will be $2,500 for the five blocks, or $500 a block. They intend to use eight posts to the block, or four on each side. The five lamps are to be turned on every night up to midnight, and then for the balance of the night the top lamp will be the only one lighted.

While no definite plans have been made as yet for the "White Way," Mayor Robey, in discussing the matter Thursday, said that the city could well afford to install these lights, and if the council does not take favorable action on the lights it is thought that some of the property owners and business men of the city will install them anyway. Mayor Robey further said:

"I am strongly in favor of the proposed 'White Way,' and the experiment of the new light and want to see Maryville have them. One feature of the lights will be that there will be no overhead wires, and many of the electric light posts will be done away with, which will improve the streets wonderfully."

The new light is meeting with the approval of the citizens here and many are interested in the proposed "White Way." Manager Hellmers of the company is to install another one in front of the Empire.

Twenty-two cities in Iowa are using these lights and are well pleased with them, according to letters received from them.

Boston, June 15.—A plea of guilty was offered in the midst of his testimony in the United States district court by Rev. Traphagen, the treasurer, pleaded guilty to "technical" fraud. All three will be fined instead of imprisoned, it is understood.

The sudden termination of the case was through agreement. District Attorney French having stated that he would not press for a jail sentence inasmuch as the evidence showed a less serious offense than was at first supposed. These imported dimities differ in "looks" and "feel" from the domestic product because the threads used are smoother, thus giving a more uniform, softer surface.

There are in all about 40 widely different patterns to select from—every one an artistic combination of unusual beauty. Nearly every color is represented. For dainty summer dresses nothing is so appropriate or serviceable and the wide range of colorings gives every opportunity for fashioning becoming models.

The regular price is 35c a yard but starting tomorrow these imported dimities will be marked to sell for, the yard,

DID YOU SEE THE
"HAREM SKIRT"

A silence came over the audience. It was the silence which comes with the expectation of the unknown. Instinct seemed to tell the people that something was about to happen. The villain's affinity, the wife of the millionaire, had just appeared in the doorway. Not knowing particularly why they did it, everybody turned their eyes on her. And then, she took a stride which landed her half way down the stage. The mystery was revealed. Two dainty ankles in pink stockings. Two soft silky looking thighs, all room and baggy, gathered in tight about three inches above the ankles. A mouseproof contraption. A drop curtain effect in the front and back concealed a large portion of the contrivance underneath as long as the lady was standing still. But when the strides began, watch out.

Mark Twain would probably have held his hands over his eyes and peeked through his fingers as he did at the Parisian dancers, but a Maryville audience, never. We all looked and looked hard, not caring if it was naughty. We need no longer to bow our heads in shame in the presence of Chicagoans, New Yorkers, or even Parisians, for we have received the last touch of civilization. We are cosmopolitan, metropolitan. We have seen the harem skirt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Pulliam of Cedarville, Kan., who have been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Yeager, left Thursday for New Boston, Ill., to visit Mr. Pulliam's brother. Mr. Pulliam is a brother of Mrs. Yeager, and it was their first visit together in thirty-two years.

Mrs. C. W. Null and little daughter, Mariam, left Thursday noon for Leona, Ia., to visit her brother, P. B. Walker. She will go from Leona to Chicago to visit her sister, Mrs. F. M. Beale. Rev. FUZZY'S "POLL TAX"
IS PAID NOW

Even a dog may have friends, if he shows himself friendly.

"Fuzzy," who is nobody's dog around town, but by no means a friendly dog, has seemed in a quandary for several days, and his restless and rather limp manner was a puzzle to his friends. Tuesday he went to the office of one of his friends, Paul Sisson, where he was in the habit of calling occasionally, and went into the vault and slept there a long time.
It was the first time he had gone into the vault, and after he awakened, lingered in his new sleeping place and peeped out cautiously. Seeing only friends he came on out, slipped down stairs and suddenly darted into an alley.

Just then somebody noticed O. P.
Wade, who is collecting the dog tax this year, drive by. Then it was that a friend of "Fuzzy" knew what the matter was. He knew his time was short if his tax wasn't paid, and as he had no owner he could not expect any one to do so much for him, and he felt the hour of his departure was near at hand, for he had heard of the hard-hearted dog tax collector.
But Wednesday morning a collar and tag was put around his neck by Charles Wadley, another of his friends, and "Fuzzy" is now happily wagging his tail. His tax receipt bears

HEIKE IN THE WITNESS BOX

Former Secretary Tells Why Sugar Trust Was Organized.

TO CUT COST OF PRODUCTION

House Investigating Committee Fails to Discover Secret of Controlling Genius of the American Sugar Refining Company.

Washington, June 15.—An attempt to discover the secret of the power of the late Henry O. Havemeyer, who for years was the controlling genius of the American Sugar Refining company, failed again when the house sugar trust investigating committee cross-examined Charles R. Heike, supposed confidant of the sugar king and secretary of the company until his indictment connecting him with the recent sugar customs frauds. Edwin F. Atkins, acting head of the corporation, had testified that Mr. Havemeyer had ruled the concern with holdings of $200,000 of a total of $90,000,000.

Mr. Heike protested that he knew nothing of the operations of Mr. Havemeyer. Explaining that little discussion of business ever took place at the meetings of the board of directors of the corporation, Mr. Heike pleaded his inability to tell the committee much about the big transactions of the company during the course of time he was with the company.

President Havemeyer ran the business, the witness said. He denied that he had such confidential relations with Mr. Havemeyer as to be able to testify now about the business of former days. Looking at it from the past, he said, he judged the merger was to reduce the cost of production.

WOMAN ADMITS HIDING MONEY

Mrs. Ford Says She Put it in Strong Box for Cooke.

SAYS HE JUST HELPED HIMSELF

Twenty-Two Thousand Dollars of Big Four Money Turned Over to Her. Says She Got $1,500, but Was Forced to Return $1,000.

Cincinnati, June 15.—Charles L. Warriner, defaulter to the extent of $643,000, stepped from the court scene in the trial of Edgar S. Cooke here back to his cell, and there entered Jeannette Stewart Ford, once a veritable Du Barry, now a pathetic, palsied invalid.

With quivering voice, shaking hand holding a handkerchief unsteadily to her eyes, she admitted having hidden $22,000 in money for Cooke, and then declared that he told her that it had been taken from the Big Four railway. She said that she had received $1,200 or $1,500 of this amount for herself and then, when shown a check signed by her and indorsed by Cooke for $1,000, said that the former bookkeeper of the railroad had forced her to return that amount to him.

In all essential details her testimony fitted into and supplemented that of Warriner. Warriner had related that when he discovered that Cooke was short the defendant had promised to return some of the money and had subsequently visited Warriner's home and given him $2,000.

Mrs. Ford said that she had accompanied Cooke to the Warriner residence one night, but had remained outside until the latter had finished his call; that Cooke then said: "It's all right, we'll both go to New York," and that there they opened the cache she had established in a Wall street vault, and added Cooke in counting bills to the total of $22,000.

"Just Helped Himself," According to the woman, Cooke's explanation of his methods in acquiring this money was that "he just helped himself."

Warriner resisted successfully attempts to lead him into an exposure of men higher up. He denied there were any such men; that he had pleaded guilty and accepted a prison sentence at the behest of Big Four officials, or that he had ever, as an officer of the road, paid out money for illegal rebates.

NINE MEN INDICTED

Alleged Labor Sluggers Characterized by Chicago Police as "Gunmen."

Chicago, June 15.—Fourteen indictments against nine men whom the police characterize as labor "sluggers" and "gunmen," among them being Maurice Enright, business agent of the plumbers' union, who confessed to shooting and killing William Gentleman, a union labor agent, were returned by the grand jury. With Enright, the men indicted are John McCabe, Walter Stevens, Peter Gentleman, Harry Higgins, William Connors, Edward Storegaard, Joseph Kane and Arthur O'Connors.

Three separate murders, which have resulted during the factional fight between separate organizations of the plumbers and steamfitters, are charged in the indictments.

Higgins, Enright and Stevens were indicted for assault to murder John Ramler, who recently was shot while at work. Six of the true bills charged Connors, Kane, Stevens, Gentleman, Storegaard and O'Connors with assault and intent to murder Morgan Bell, who was beaten while at work. The other indictments charged Stevens, McCabe, Kane, O'Connors and Gentleman with assault to murder Richard O'Donnell.

All of the men were held on bonds of $25,000 each.

Washington, June 15.—The International Paper company has written Chairman Penrose of the senate finance committee, refusing to furnish information Senator Penrose had asked respecting the purchase price of the properties merged into the International company and whether paid for in cash, bonds or otherwise.

The company, through its representative, Chester W. Lyman, says: "There are business reasons entirely aside from the purposes of your investigation which would make us unwilling to publish broadcast some of the facts asked for."

YOUR GRAY HAIRS QUICKLY VANISH

A Harmless Remedy, Made from Garden Sage, Restores Color to Gray Hair.

A feeling of sadness accompanies the discovery of the first gray hairs, which, unfortunately, are looked upon as heralds of advancing age. Gray hairs, however, are not always an indication of advancing age, for many people have gray hairs quite early in life. Of course, it is unnatural, and indicates that there is something wrong with the individual, and that nature needs assistance in correcting the trouble. The same is true of hair that is constantly falling out and becoming thinner every day. If everything is right with Nature, the hair, even in comparatively elderly people, should be long, thick and glossy, without even a streak of gray.

The ideal assistant to Nature in restoring and preserving the hair is Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a clean and wholesome dressing for daily use. It not only removes dandruff, but strengthens weak, thin and falling hair and promotes its growth. A few applications will restore faded or gray hair to its natural color.

This preparation is offered to the public at fifty cents a bottle, and is recommended and sold by all druggists. Special Agent, Koch Pharmacy.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ross of Clyde were visitors in the city Wednesday and Thursday.
